Instructions to Facilitators:

- The facilitator should ask the group to answer all three questions, but then to select one out of the three to report back on at the end of the session. Ten minutes should be spent on each question.
- One person at the table should act as the recorder of all comments.
- One person will need to volunteer to report on the group's discussion at the plenary session on the selected question that the group feels most strongly about. If no one volunteers the facilitator will serve as reporter.
